To view booking details and purchase ancillary services (luggage-seating-meals) on Israil flights (code 6H), enter the personal area in My Israil site <https://myisrail.israil.co.il/>. To make changes / cancellations to your booking, please contact your travel agent.

Israil customers now benefit from a new and advanced security-screening, baggage drop-off and check-in complex. The complex is located in the international departures area in Terminal 3, Level G (Ground Floor), in a designated area on the left side of the hall. Passengers flying with a large suitcase, and have checked in in advance, should head to the complex for security screening, and to drop off the large suitcase. Passengers flying with a trolley only, and have checked in in advance, are not required to head to this complex. They can proceed to security screening in Sector W on the top floor.

"Israil" recommends that the passenger insure himself, from the moment of booking, with comprehensive and extensive personal insurance, which includes medical insurance, cargo insurance and cancellation fee insurance. In addition, the passenger himself is required to check and verify the terms of his insurance.

The flight times indicated on this e-ticket are local to the destination on a 24 hour basis

This airline ticket is for Charter and / or Low Cost flights, and cancellations, delays, postponements as well as last-minute changes in the itinerary and / or destination and / or flight number and / or airline identity may incur.

This airline ticket is for flights operated by Israil Airlines (code 6H) or other airlines (foreign or Israeli). The airline name will appear in the itinerary to be sent to you or to your travel agency. In addition to its own fleet of aircraft, Israil operates foreign leased aircraft operated by foreign crews with Israil flight attendants. It is possible that this flight will be operated on a leased aircraft. Flights operated aboard leased aircraft are not carried out under Israeli security cover.

The airline performing the flight (the air carrier) bears responsibility towards the customer (see below the terms of air transport contract in the Israil Services Regulations).

It is the responsibility of the passenger (including minors) to have a valid and readable passport (passport with no torn or scrambled pages) valid for at least 6 months from the date of departure from the country, with appropriate entry visas for each country on the itinerary, and to indicate to his travel agency if he has a non-Israeli passport or a laissez-passer or Certificate of transit, in a way that covers the period of stay abroad. Any Israeli citizen, whether or not he or she has one or more citizenships, is obliged to enter and exit the state's borders only through an Israeli passport. Any variance must be consistent with the identity of the incoming person, and state law may change from time to time. Passport handling, visas and the like are solely the responsibility of the passenger, any expenses and / or damage incurred due to invalid passports and / or improper entry visas which may prevent the passenger from entering any country will only apply to the passenger.

24 hours prior to the flight date, the passenger is required to check if there is a change in the flight time and / or the flight number and / or the airline as indicated on this flight ticket. International flights from Tel Aviv depart from Ben Gurion Airport (Terminal 1 or 3). The passenger must make sure in advance, at the same travel agency through which the booking was made, from which terminal the flight takes off at Ben Gurion Airport and / or at the Airport abroad.

The passenger must arrive at the check-in counters after the security check has been completed, and no later than four hours before the departure date specified on this flight ticket. The flight will not be delayed due to late arrival of passengers at the check-in counters or at the boarding gate. Israil will not be liable for any damage caused to the passenger as a result of his delay in arriving at the required time for the flight.

Luggage - The terms and conditions for baggage and hand luggage (size and weight) on flights are determined by the airlines and may vary, therefore it is the responsibility of the passenger to check in advance the specific conditions pertaining to his booking with Israil or the airline itself. On some flights (such as on Israil flights code 6H) the airlines charge for each suitcase, and this charge will only apply to the passenger. For excess baggage, unusual luggage size or extra luggage, the airline will charge an additional charge directly from the passenger in accordance with its conditions.

Flight service does not include meals and drinks. On some Israil flights code 6H, you may purchase a sandwich or salad or pre-order or directly order a drink on the plane, at an additional cost, until the stock on that flight is exhausted. Israil is not responsible for providing a kosher meal and / or any other type of meal on flights, this being the responsibility of the airline only and in accordance with its options and resources. On some flights on various airlines, the airline will charge an additional fee directly from the passenger in accordance with the conditions in which it is traveling and the passenger must ascertain in advance, with the travel agency through which the booking was made, what these conditions are.

Airline ticket for a baby under 2 years of age does not grant any right to a seat and / or crib and / or luggage and / or any service provided by the airline.

Passenger information may be transferred to credit companies, credit check companies, public authorities such as customs and immigration or other governmental or public bodies, including public authorities and government bodies in European countries and at Israil flight targets, all as necessary or as required by law.

General Conditions for Air Transport - Warranty Limitation Notice

In the event of a flight delay at the airport, the passenger must contact the airline's representatives at its check-in counters for assistance. Air Transport Warranty and other services provided by the Air Carrier (the Airline) are governed by the Air Transport Act 1980 and by the terms of the Air Carrier Contract (the Airline). These terms and conditions include important provisions regarding air transport, including instructions on the limitation of responsibility of the air carrier (the airline), inter alia, for damage and loss of baggage, bodily injury, delays, postponements, flight cancellations, etc. Passengers are requested to consult these terms and conditions prior to flight, in the "Passenger information" section of the Israil website www.israil.co.il under the section "Terms of air transport contract". These terms and conditions can also be requested and received at Israil's offices.
